

Approved by the UNECE Executive Committee in November 2024, the initiative will be implemented in line with the 2024-2025 Work Plan of the Group of Experts, marking a decisive step ...

In Uzbekistan, structural reforms are needed to encourage foreign direct investment as a capital flow. The government must implement a comprehensive package of reforms, including ...

Since 2017, the country has moved beyond blueprints and into real-world change, marked by significant gains in Uzbekistan electricity production, a surge in renewable energy, and ...

Uzbekistan is advancing toward a low-carbon, climate-resilient future through a new initiative focused on ensuring an inclusive and equitable energy transition.

To safeguard its transition, Uzbekistan will need to actively manage geopolitical uncertainty through diversified partnerships, regional cooperation, and strategic autonomy in technology and energy ...

Uzbekistan marked 2025 as a landmark year in its transition towards green energy, building on a decade of policy reforms and international partnerships. The country's energy strategy ...

Uzbekistan achieved an early success in energy transition with significant upscale of renewable energy capacity, especially, through private sector investments.

Uzbekistan joins forces with the ILO, UNDP and UNECE to advance just energy transition through a strategic foresight workshop.

The outcomes of the workshop will inform the finalization of Uzbekistan's Just Energy Transition Roadmap and contribute to broader climate and development strategies.

Since 2017, Uzbekistan has been implementing wide-ranging reforms in the energy sector aimed at increasing efficiency, modernizing infrastructure, and transitioning to market-based ...

Web: <https://rrrprojects.co.za>