

Have you seen misleading online solar ads or been approached by an aggressive door-to-door salesperson?

Beware of misleading social media ads and sales pitches promising "free" solar, guaranteed savings, or special government payouts--these are major red flags. Compare quotes ...

Did a salesperson knock on your door and promise free rooftop solar panels at no cost to you? Or say you'll never have to pay another electricity bill because government programs, grants, or ...

The Treasury Department works with other federal agencies, including the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) and the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) to spread the word about ...

Learn how to spot solar panel fraud, avoid predatory contracts, and take action if you've been scammed, with guidance from Prevost Law Firm.

While you are browsing solar power companies, one of them may offer to install a solar panel or solar roof in your home for a small cost or even for free. It's an intentionally misleading...

To avoid getting scammed, you need to know what to look out for and when to walk away. Here's our guide to spotting solar panel scams and finding a great installer.

That's why we put together these tips to avoid getting ripped off when buying solar panels -- backed by expert advice. Here's how to dodge solar panel scams and identify red flags.

As solar grows in popularity, more scammers are targeting consumers. Here are three common solar scams to look out for, how to avoid them and how to report solar scams.

This article explores the most common solar panel scams, provides tips to recognize red flags, and offers guidance on protecting yourself from fraudulent solar companies.

Web: <https://rrrprojects.co.za>